WARNING: FAILURE TO SECURE WORKERS' COMPENSATION COVERAGE IS UNLAWFUL, AND SHALL SUBJECT AN EMPLOYER TO CRIMINAL PENALTIES AND CIVIL FINES UP TO $100,000, IN ADDITION TO THE COST OF COMPENSATION, DAMAGES AS PROVIDED FOR IN SECTION 3706 OF THE LABOR CODE, INTEREST, AND ATTORNEY'S FEES.

Informational Item: Proof of Workers' Compensation Insurance

Legislation AB 1576, Chapter 600 became effective January 1, 1992, and provides that an applicant for issuance or renewal of a business license issued by a city or county must provide proof of valid current workers' compensation insurance or a current Certificate of Self-Insurance.

Existing law requires every private employer to secure the payment of workers' compensation by obtaining insurance or becoming self-insured. Where an employer fails to secure these payments, the Director of Industrial Relations is required to issue a stop order prohibiting the use of labor by the employer and to assess monetary penalties in the amount of $1,000 per employee at the time the stop order is issued, and between $2,000 and $10,000 per employee at the time the appeal becomes final, to a maximum total penalty of $100,000.

Existing law provides that failure of an employer, or others, as specified, to observe a stop order is a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding 60 days or a fine not exceeding $10,000, or both. Existing law authorizes the legislative body of a city and county to impose certain business license taxes.

This bill requires that every employer who applies for any license, or renewal of any license, or renewal of any license for a business issued pursuant to a specified statute, must provide proof of valid workers' compensation insurance or proof of compliance with self-insurance provisions, with a specified exception.

When applying for or renewing your business license, workers' compensation insurance is required. If you have any questions, contact your insurance agent.
